YULU'S VOICE(in Chinese)

天地浑沌如鸡子，盘古生其中。万八千岁，天地开辟，阳清为天阴浊为地。

subtitle: In the beginning, there was only darkness and chaos, and the sky and earth were one blurred entity.

This vast "egg," as the Chinese call it, was subjected to two opposing forces or principles.

The interaction between the two forces the yin (passive or negative female principle) and yang (active or positive male principle) gave birth to Pangu (the first living being and the creator of all), causing the egg's shell to crack.

After many years, the yang, which was light and pure, rose to become the sky; the yin, which was heavy and murky, sank to form the earth.
